Hello Card

Copic markers used: RV91/93/95, YG21/23/25, Y13/15

1. Color the flower die cut pieces with the Copic markers listed or the coloring medium of your choice. Attach the flower head pieces together with wet glue. Set aside.
2. Weave the light teal strips through the darker teal base – alternating the over and under of each strip. You need to weave enough that it will cover the diamond opening on the card front.
3. Determine the size of the woven piece to mount behind the card front by positioning the piece behind the diamond opening. You can place a piece of clear tape on the back of the piece where you need to trim it. Trim the piece with scissors.
4. Apply a line of wet glue on the back side of the diamond opening and position the woven piece to the back. Recommend taping the edges of the woven piece on the back to secure it to the piece. Attach to the front of the base card.
5. Attach the flowers – place a foam square behind the flower head, then attach the base of the stem with wet glue. Attach the other sprig piece with wet glue.
6. Attach the words with wet glue as shown. Scatter the pearls and attach with wet glue.

For You Card

1. Color 6 white strips with the distress inks listed or as you choose.

3. As above, determine the size of the woven piece to be attached, then apply clear tape where you will cut.
4. Apply wet glue around the edges of the white frame on the back of the piece, then attach the woven piece to the frame – securing with tape on the edges.
5. Attach to the base card with preferably strong double-sided tape or glue.
6. Assemble the flowers and attach with foam squares and wet glue.
7. Attach the words with wet glue. Scatter the sequins and attach with wet glue.
